Question Making Competition is a unique platform for all teachers across the country to showcase their question making skills. All educators across grades and subjects are invited to participate in the competition by creating high quality questions using their creativity, critical thinking and subject knowledge.

Check out the 'Participation Corner' for more details to participate.

Message from the Chairperson

It is indeed a great opportunity for our teachers to share their question making skills and for the board to reward their talent.

About the Competition
Eligibility
Selection Process
Awards

The Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) has launched QMC (Question making competition) in close collaboration with Educational Initiatives (Ei). The purpose of this competition is derived from the vision of National Education Policy which focuses on testing questions rooted in learning and understanding of the concept.

1. Who can participate?
The Question making competition is a unique opportunity for all educators to showcase their question making skills and learn in the process. The competition is open to all educators across grades and subjects. Even those who are not currently teaching can participate.

2. How to register for QMC?
Registration for QMC is a simple 3 step process. You need a unique mobile number for verification along with other personal information to create your account. Having an email id for communication is highly recommended but not compulsory.

3. Which grade and subjects are allowed?
Educators can create questions across all subjects from Grade 3-12. If your subject does not appear in the drop sown menu, select others and add your 'subject'.

4. How many questions needs to created and reviewed?
There is no cap on number of questions participants can create and get feedback on. However you have to send 5 best questions according to you for the competition as final submission. All participants will have to review at-least 5 questions.

5. Is it compulsory to get a review on my question?
It is essential that your questions are reviewed by at least one other participant to be considered for final selection. Acting on the feedback is solely your discretion. This is to ensure and promote the spirit of collaborative question making in the process.

6. Is there a time-period for reviewing question?
QMC is a dynamic platform. You receive a question to review as soon as you send your question for review. However every question allotted for review expires in 3 days. You need to review the question in that time only. Option for extension request is available.

7. How to send final entries for the competition?
Once you have minimum 5 questions that have received feedback and you have reviewed 5 questions of other teachers, you will be eligible to send your best 5 questions as entries for the competition. In case you have created more, you can select the 5 questions from your list.

About the Competition
